This scheme offers a home with support for up to four young people aged between 16 and 25, who are either more than 18 weeks pregnant or have a child aged under two.

Residents have their own furnished bedrooms, with a fridge and wash basin, and share a lounge, kitchen, laundry and bathroom. There is a staff office.

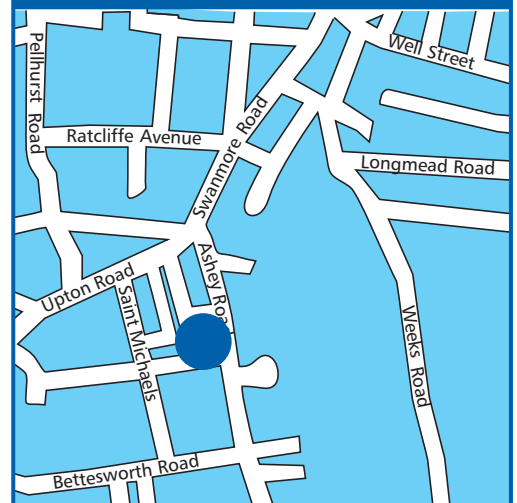

Support staff managed by a team leader from Outreach Services provide support throughout the week. When they are not on site, support is offered via a freephone telephone number. Oakleigh also has links with midwives and health visitors who visit the residents at home.

Situated on Ashley Road in Ryde, the scheme is convenient for Sure Start, Sure Steps and the health clinic.

We welcome residents from all sections of the community.

Call Care and Supporting Independence on 01983 522 479 option 1, then option 2.

Parent and baby unit

To be offered a place at Oakleigh parent and baby unit, a young person must be referred to the scheme by one of our partner agencies, such as the housing department, the maternity service or social services, before being assessed. Priority will be given to an applicant who is homeless.

Residents sign up to an occupancy agreement and work with us to draw up a plan of the support they will receive while living at the hostel.

Staff are available to provide support throughout the week.

Their job is to:

- help residents manage their occupancy agreements
- promote independence
- encourage personal safety
- help residents manage their finances, including claiming benefits and paying their rent
- improve the young people's domestic and social skills
- help the young people to access education where there are childcare facilities
- help the young people to find independent homes to move on to
- involve other organisations and professionals with resources to offer our residents.
