

Repairs: Hot Water

If you have gas central heating, your hot water will be heated by gas (although there may also be a back up electric heater). If you do not have gas central heating then your water will be heated by electricity (an immersion heater) or a gas water heater.

Gas

- Check that your programmer/timer is set to the expected times.
- Your programmer/timer must be reset when the clocks go forward and back.
- Power cuts will affect the programmer/timer clock.

Electricity

- If you have a prepayment meter, check that it has not run out of credit.
- Check that the controls are set properly.
